City Planners Face Record Agenda Tonight

City Planners have their work cut out for them tonight. They face a jam-packed agenda which encompasses holding four public hearings (including one for a trailer unit on Dillon Ave.) and approving or disapproving plans for three apartment houses totalling 78 units.

With construction already under way for one 21-unit apartment house, and with the plans for one of the most ambitious apartment houses (a 54-unit job) ever constructed in Campbell up for approval tonight, 1957 has already turned into an era of multiple dwelling construction as far as Campbell is concerned.

The two-story 54-unit apartment is planned in two sections. It will occupy eight lots of the Ampex Subdivision on the newly cut-through Dunster Drive at the rear of the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester Road and Latimer Ave. W. L. Phillips, Jr., has submitted the plans for approval.

Speed Building Corporation has submitted plans for approval of a 12-unit apartment to be located on Winchester Villa (between Hamilton and Rosemary Lane) while approval of plans for four three-unit apartments in the Ampex Subdivision have been filed by Loyd A. Hag

Other plans up for approval tonight include: a proposed building for Hunt Construction Co., on S. Winchester Road; a commercial building at Winchester Road and Rincon Ave., by Marion Nimerick; administration and general buildings and ground corporation yard filed by Sanitation District No. 4 on property located west of Camden Ave., and for an automatic car wash at Latimer Ave., and Winchester Road filed by Albert and Henry Frank.

Trailer Rental Units

Two of the public hearings are expected to attract considerable interest from residents and planners alike.

The hearing on the application of Gladys Crump for a use permit to operate ten trailer rental units at 186 S. Dillon Ave. is expeced to create considerable opposition from residents.

The hearing on the application by S. Prestigiacomo and J. M. Dahl for a change of zone from one family residential to light commercial and duplexes for property located on the west side of Winchester Road at the north city limits is also expected to draw more than passing interest. The property extends 642 feet south from the city limits.

The other public hearings are on the application of Dudley D. Hoefler for a variance to build a house at 174 Bland Ave. on a lot which is less than the minimum square footage and on the application of G. and P. Equipment Rental for a use permit to conduct their business in a commercial zone at 437 N. San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

Other Matters

Other matters on the agenda which will probably stretch the meeting tonight into the longest on record include reports on setback requirements, master plans for the city and results of the Campbell-Los Gatos joint meetings. Routine matters scheduled include, classifying the Sno-Foam Novelty Manufacturing Co. in order to allow the firm to operate in a commercial zone and discussion on changing the Planning Commission meeting to Tuesday instead of Thursday.

Work to Start On Bennett Hall

Preliminary work on the construction of the Rev. Joseph H. Bennett Memorial Hall on the grounds of the Campbell Congregational Church will begin this Saturday, it was reported this week by Myron Fairchild, of the building committee.

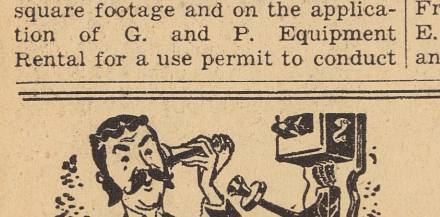
The hall, which is planned to be used as a community youth center, will honor the late Rev. Bennett, long-time Congregational minister here. The Rev. Bennett was active in youth work and was founder of the Cub Scout program in the United States.

At the building committee meeting Tuesday it was reported that Jack Farnham volunteered to remove the trees from the site this Saturday, the first step in the building program. It was also announced that members of the DeMolay chapter would cut up the wood and assist in the preparation of the location for the official groundbreaking ceremony.

It is planned to have the groundbreaking program on Saturday, February 16.

Committee members are optimistic over the early completion of the project and have been encouraged by offers of assistance from various groups and individuals. Among the offers is a letter signed by R. H. (Rip) Schuler, of the Campbell Lions Club, offering that club's assistance and full support.

Others who have signified their intentions of helping include, Frank Rouse, Jr., Glenn DuBois, E. B. Mortenson, Fred Johnson, and Laurance Hill.



On The Line in Campbell

Lewis Lathrop and Don Hollis have purchased Campbell Upholstery and Glass, 85 S. Winchester Road, from Nick DiMuzio, it was announced this week. The partners who have a combined 25-years of experience in the business will operate under the firm name of Luke's Trim Shop.

Apartments Lead Way in 'Boom'

A small-scale "building boom", contrary to the general nation-wide trend, appears in the offing for Campbell in 1957, if the building permits issued in January and those on the drafting boards awaiting approval are any indication.

Construction in the City of Campbell took a noticeable upswing during the month of January, with single-family dwellings leading the way with 18 permits for $199,119, according to W. L. (Bud) Morser, city building inspector. Building permits of all types for the month totaled $279,433.

Indications were that this upswing would continue, but with accent on apartment building, based on permits already issued in February. With the plans that are to be submitted to the Planning Commission this week for approval, all previous local records for this type of housing construction are expected to be shattered.

Of the 18 permits issued for single-family dwelling units in Campbell during the month, 10 of them for $100,480 went to the Dura Style Homes on N. Victor Ave. (Latimer Park) Permits for these ranged from $9,920 to $10,400 each.

H. R. Thomas, owner and contractor, was issued permits for five homes at $10,989 each for a total of $54,945. Two of them are located on W. Rincon (850 and 866) while three are on W. Century Drive (722, 788 and 802).

O. L. Shoemake, contractor and owner, took out two permits for homes at 236 and 250 N. Sondra, each for $12,622 while M. L. Dick was issued a permit for a dwelling at 115 McBain Court, for $18,450 to complete the permits for new single-family dwellings for the month. (Three permits for $9,752 each, total $29,256, were reissued to the Palo Alto Mutual Savings and Loan, Charles O. Harris, contractor).

4-Unit Apartment

A permit for a 4-unit apartment (the first in the apartment-house phase for the year) was obtained by Mike Infatino on January 10. The apartment is located at 1120 Robway. T. S. Cardona is the contractor. The permit was for $16,000.

The Trojan Construction Co., owners of the Los Ranchitos, took out a permit for its Cabana Club in the tract, in the area where the swimming pool will be built eventually. The permit was for $1,984.

Industrial Warehouses

On the industrial side of the picture for the month, Western Gravel Co., was in top position with a permit for $15,000 for a warehouse building at 450 S. Railway. N. A. Lamb is the contractor.

Building Center Builders, 740 S. Winchester Road, received a permit for four warehouse buildings for a total of $7,680 while Salvador's Dry Wall Taping Co., 264 S. Railway was issued a permit

ELECTRICAL WEEK IN CAMPBELL . . . Mayor John M. Chargin of Campbell (seated) signs the official proclamation designating February 10-16 as Electrical Week in Campbell. This annual event is celebrated nationally this year, marking the 110th anniversary of the birth of Thomas Alva Edison on February 11. During the week the electrical industry of the United States pays tribute to Edison by inviting public attention to the marvels of modern living which have stemmed from his genius. Looking over the Mayor's shoulder are George Harter, (left) secretary, San Benito Counties Electrical Contractors Association; Frank Accardi, Campbell appliance dealer and director of the Santa Clara County Gas and Electrical Appliance Association and L. J. Brundige, PG and E's San Jose division manager.

The P.O. Jitters

There was much hustling and skirmishing on the postal front in Campbell this week. But no definite developments.

On Sunday the Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church approved the action of the Official Board two weeks ago in granting Oliver Jensen and Henry Jewell the option to purchase the old Mehodist Church on Campbell Ave. and First St. for $50,000.

On Monday J. F. Dempsey, real estate inspector for the P. O. Department conferred with Jensen and Jewell over tentative plans for a new post office to face First St. with entry onto Campbell Ave. by a 20-foot driveway.

Dempsey apparently liked what he saw.

On Wednesday Jensen and Jewell filed applications with the Planning Commission (hearing is set for February 21) for a parking variance, a setback variance and use permit which are necessary if the new post office is to go where the sentiment of the public apparently wants it to.

Now it's the city's turn.

Crime Takes Big Jump in Campbell

Crime in Campbell increased in 1956 over 1955. This was revealed this week by the annual report of Chief of Police Robert J. Locke. The report showed that the case load in 1956 of the police department more than doubled that of 1955.

During 1956, 854 criminal cases were reported by the police department while in 1955 only 399 cases were on the books. Only 49 cases were pending at the close of the year against 33 in 1955.

More than twice as many juveniles (70 compared to 30) were arrested in Campbell in 1956 than in 1955. The adult arrest record climbed too (174 to 97) but not as rapidly.

School District Bonds Win

Voters in the two Campbell school districts went to the polls Tuesday and indicated they were conscious of the future growth problems of the area as it affects the schools.

By a thumping 4 to 1 margin a total of 16½ million dollars in bonds and state aid were approved by the voters in the Campbell Union Higt and Elementary School Districts in the first joint election ever held here.

The unofficial vote total showed the vote on the high school side of the picture as 4,943 yes against 1,302 on the $2½ million bonds and 4,880 in favor to 1,342 against the $7 million state aid.

In the elementary district, 2,868 favored the $2 million bonds to 776 against and 2,940 voted yes on the $5 million state aid to 798 no's.

An estimated 20 per cent of the voters turned out (one of the largest in the two districts' history for a bond vote). There are 24,355 registered voters in the high school district and 13,983 in the elementary district.

Construction Continues

As a result of the election, the high school district will be able to finish the construction of Camden High School and build a cafeteria at Campbell High School. It will allow for the erection of three new high schools in the district as the enrollment need arises. The sites for these schools have already been purchased.

Elementary district officials estimate that the money voted will cover a five-year growth period (at the present rate) and will provide for doubling the present enrollment. Superintendent William Henley said the money will allow for the extension of school facilities. He said that the first three projects planned include (1) construction of the Blackford School late in the Spring for occupancy next Fall; (2) additional rooms for the Monroe School and (3) construction of the Lynhaven School to begin in the Fall for occupancy in 1958.

Pleases School Heads

Both Superintendent Laurance J. Hill and Superintendent Henley said that their future plans could possibly be changed to a degree by certain unforeseen circumstances such as marked increase in assessed valuation or an unpredictable jump in population.

For the joint election there were 16 high school precincts and nine elementary. The nine elementary were consolidated with the high school. Seven more high school precincts took care of the voters in a different elementary district but in Campbell Union High School District. These seven included Burbank, Cambrian, Steindorf, Moreland, El Quito Park, Union and Parker.

All Precincts Favor

Every precinct gave the proposals a resounding affirmative vote. Dover took the credit for the largest turnout in the elementary vote with Cypress taking this spot for the high school side. Burbank gave the closest vote in the high school (90 to 458) while Hamilton (170 to 76) took that dubious honor for the elementary.

Both superintendents expressed their appreciation for the vote of confidence expressed by the voters. Superintendent Henley added that he felt that the vote was actually a compliment to the people in the districe because of their unfailing interest and support of their schools.

FAIR DATE

It was announced this week by the Western Fairs Association that the Santa Clara County Fair will take place September 9-15 in San Jose.

OWNERSHIP CHANGES

It was reported this week that the Sno-White Drive-In, 116 E. Campbell, operated by Mrs. Mildred Tewksbury is being sold to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hannah of Glendale, Calif.

WELCOME ABOARD, JUDGE . . . Marvin Moore, (left), The Campbell Press 9-year old sports columnist welcomes Judge John D. Blaine into the fold. Judge Blaine, who has resided in Campbell for 69 of his 82 years, this week joined Marvin as a weekly columnist in The Press. Marvin's sports column "Low Down on Sports" has appeared weekly since July. The Judge's colmun starts in this issue.—The Campbell Press photo.

"Over the Years"

Judge John D. Blaine 'Signs' as Press Columnist

Pedaling a bicycle for 10,000 miles is quite a stretch.

But that's what Judge John D. Blaine estimates he has ridden on a bike since he first started in riding back in 1889. The Judge made his estimate this week after he had pedaled down to The Press office with his first "column".

In the "column", which is to be a regular feature of The Press, the active octogenarian will be given free license to delve into any matter he so desires. It is anticipated, however, that he will devote considerable space to the Campbell of years gone by, for the Judge has been around Campbell for almost 70 years. This filling-in of background material should be a valuable assistance to those newcomers (and there are a lot of 'em) in Campbell who would like to know about the early days of their community.

Keeps Active

Judge Blaine, hte "judge" title is authentic, for he was elected justice of peace for six terms, admits to 82 years of age. But his daily activities would tire a man half his age. He uses his bike almost exclusively to get around (he doesn't own a car today) and in addition, keeps fit by playing tennis. He has wielded a racket on the courts since he was 25 years of age. He also played golf for 10 years (1927 to 1937) and won three tournaments in that sport in the first five years he played. He had an 8-handicap at Rinconada.

The Judge has resided at 45 S. Second St., in Campbell in the same house since 1904. He adds that the house is 53 years old but the property has belonged to the family for another 50. Judge Blaine's wife, who died in 1948 shortly after their golden wedding anniversary, was the former Alda Swope, whose mother was the daughter of Benjamin Campbell, the founder of the city that bears his name. There are four daughters and one son in the immediate Blaine family.

Born in Illinois

Judge Blaine was born in Illinois August 30, 1874 and came to Campbell as a teenager in 1887. He grew up on Hamilton Ave. where his uncle, George Blaine, had a 40-acre orchard. His uncle came to Willow Glen in 1866. Young Blaine attended the old Hamilton Grammar School (No Campbell schools existed then).

For 19 years (1908 to 1927) he operated a grocery business in Campbell. He was elected Justice of peace of the Campbell township for the first time in 1927 and was re-elected for five subsequent terms. Illness forced his resignation in 1950 when he was succeeded by Martin S. Walsh. The justice court was succeeded by the judicial district system later.

The Judge chuckles in recalling that he was probably the only judge in the country who ever rode to the county courthouse on a bike. The justice court itself, hwever, was held in the front room parlor of the Blaine residence on Second St.

Lands in "Post"

The new columnist for The Press is no stranger to the printed word. Not only is a prolific reader but he has been able to put his thoughts on paper. For many years he has been a contributor in the letters column of a San Jose paper but his outstanding achievement along this line was the acceptance by the Saturday Evening Post of a lengthy article by him in the issue of June 17, 1939.

"Making the Post" is generally considered the ultimate of all writers but Blaine made it on his first try. "I call it my hole in one in the literary field," is the way the modest pen-man puts it.

The article in the Post was given a prominent position in that issue and was entitled, "Dr. Hutchins and I Shudder to Note". Blaine took exception to the eminent Dr. Hutchins theories on education and answered him in kind.

That the Post editors considered Judge Blaine a valued contributor can be judged by the editor's note which preceded the article:

. . "With this article, Mr. Blaine, justice of the peace and retired grocer at Campbell, Santa Clara County, California, wrote us a letter. The letter was even livelier than the formal rebuttal to Dr. Hutchins and we asked to use it in part. . . "

The Press feels fortunate in obtaining the services of Judge Blaine as a regular contributor. After all it is not every day that we can get a successful Post author for this paper. Aside from the fact that we are confident that the Judge knows how to put one word after another, we know the readers of this paper will also appreciate his recollections of the past in Campbell.

Father Founds Paper

Although the Judge never was associated directly with The Campbell Press, his father, John Blaine, is considered the founder of this paper. The first issue was called "The Builder-Up", although no copies of this edition are available today. Frank Blaine, the Judge's brother, established the "Campbell Weekly Visitor" in 1895, the immediate predecessor to today's Campbell Press, After the paper had passed through several hands a brother-in-law of the Judge, E. C. Hurlbert, became its publisher.

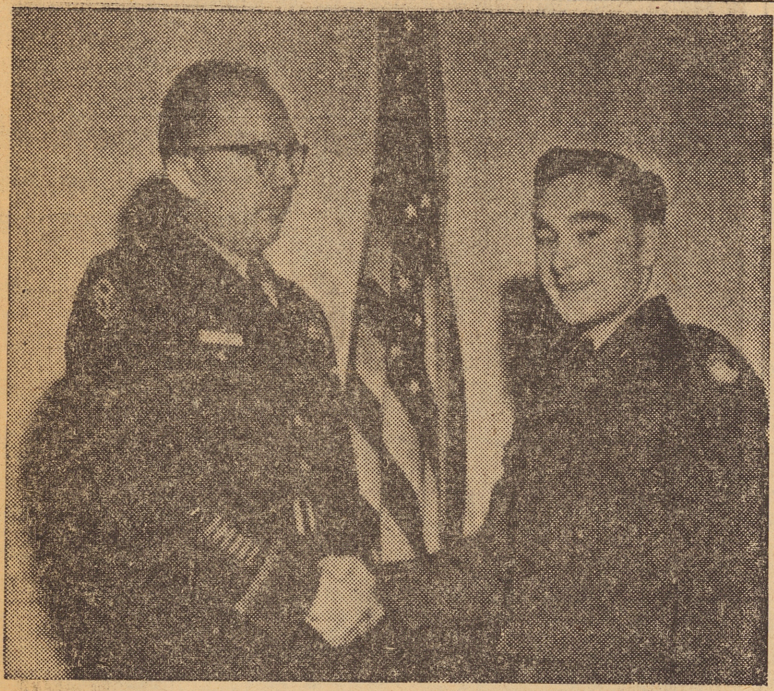
The Judge was always too busy to give the paper more than a cursory helping hand but he recalls that he certainly received experience as to how newspapers are distributed. For four years (1902-1906) he operated a news agency in Campbell. His agency in addition to handling the San Jose Mercury also distributed the Call, Chronicle and Examiner out of San Francisco from Sunnyvale to Almaden.

The Judge remembers that he used to be a pretty tired fellow by midafternoon Sunday afer getting all his papers distributed. He figures that all in all he traveled about 70 miles each Sunday by bike.

He would pedal to San Jose in the wee hours of the morning, deliver the papers all the way to Los Gatos; ride back to Santa Clara to meet the San Francisco rain with the morning papers, deliver these on a 25-mile route and then back to Campbell again to meet the train with more papers.

We are certain that, if the Judge only taps a small portion of his reservoir of recollections, it will be interesting to all our readers, young, old and indifferent.

So all of us on The Press join with Marvin Moore, our 9-year old sports columnist, in welcoming John Doddridge Blaine to the fold. . G.V.



RECEIVES PROMOTION . . . After being promoted to private first class in Japan, Sloan R. Spencer (right) of Campbell, is congratulated by Capt. Rex T. Clark, commander of the Enlisted Detachment at the Tokyo Army Hospital. Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sloan R. Spencer, 729 Lovell St., is assigned as an aidman at the hospital. He entered the Army in February, 1956, and received his basic raining at Fort Ord. He was stationed at Madigan Army Hospital, Tacoma, Wash., before arriving in the Far East last September. The 19-year-old soldier attended the University of Oregon before entering the service.

Bureau in Need of Volunteer Workers

A call for volunteer workers has been sent out by the Volunteer Bureau of San Jose. First established on a part-time basis in 1949, the Bureau is now on full-time schedule and is completely supported by the Community Chest.

At the present time there is a great need for volunteer workers who will contribute their time and talent to the many agencies which are working at full tilt and are still unable to cope with the many demands upon their time.

Volunteers are used to help individual cases, of which there are many. Blind people need help. The bed-ridden are hungry for company and entertainment. Children need help with crafts, dancing and playground activities. Even a spare hour here and there in a busy schedule is needed.

Anyone wishing to donate a few hours can contact Mrs. Aline Burns, director of the bureau, at CY 7-1928, or drop a line to the Volunteer Bureau, Room 217, Security Building, 84 S. First Street, San Jose.

SERVICE CLUB HEARS MING QUONG NEEDS

Guest speaker at the January meeting of the Westhills Service Club was Charles A. O'Neil of the Ming Quong Home in Los Gatos. O'Neil gave a short history of the home and told of the needs of the children.

At the present time the club is working with homebound children and Agnew State Hospital patients and is interested in working with Ming Quong Home in addition to other individual projects.

The annual dinner dance was also held in January at Hawaiian Gardens. Preceding the dinner, cocktails were served at the home of Mrs. Theodore Luoto on Old Orchard Road. Those attending were:

Messers and Mesdames Donald Lantz, Louis Brandon, Arthur Cowdery, Stephen Everett, Donald Gracier, Verle Grizzle, George Kemp, Theodore Luoto, George Miskulin, Reese Parker, Thomas Reasonover, Robert Swan and Ford Whitney.

The regular business meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Donald Gracier with Mrs. Stephen Everett as co-hostess.

Boy Scout Week Set Nation-Wide For February 6-12

Boy Scout Week, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, will be observed from Wednesday, Februray 6, through Tuesday, February 12. It is the largest youth observance in the nation, since it will be celebrated in every city and town and most villages and hamlets throughout the nation by four and one-half million boys and adult leaders.

The observance has as its theme, "Onward for God and My Country", with a special emphasis on "Duty to Country."

Today 3,300,000 boys are enjoying the "game of Scouting" through its three distinctive programs—Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Exploring.

The great work is made possible largely through the active sponsorship of churches of all denominations, schools and other community institutions. Perhaps of greatest significance is the fact that 1,200,000 adults serve as leaders, all of them volunteers, except for the handful of 3,157 men who are full-time career Scout Executives.

In no other country in the world do we find so many men and women of good character willing to share their time as volunteer leaders with the boyhood of their nation.

As part of the week, twelve outstanding Explorers, older boy members of the organization, will be chosen to go to Washington, D.C., to make the annual "Report to the Nation." They will call at the White House.

Most of the Nation's 40,500 Cub packs, including 1,680,000 Cub Scouts, will hold "Blue and Gold banquets," which are really pot-luck dinners, with each family bringing a part of the menu. These 8, 9 and 10-year-old members will follow a home-centered program in their homes and backyards. They will prepare skits, displays and take on service projects for neighborhood school assemblies and churches.

Most of the 55,000 Boy Scout troops, including 1,155,000 members will recognize individual advancement and achievements at annual parents' and Scouts' dinners. During the month they will mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of the founder of Scouting, the late Britisher, Lord Robert Baden-Powell, whose birthday occurs on February 22.

Sunday, February 10, has been set aside as Boy Scout Sunday. Scouts and leaders will attend religious services in uniform in countless churches of all denominations. Those of Jewish faith will hold their observances in synagoges and temples on Friday evening, February 8, and Saturday, February 9. Many sermons, addressed to Scouts, will touch on some aspect of the Boy Scout Week theme.

At these Boy Scout Week celebrations many units will review the program highlights and the successes of the first year in the Four Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," camping and other outdoor activities, and planning for participation in the Fourth Annual National Jamboree, which is expected to attract more than 50,000 Scouts, Explorers, and leaders for a week of camping together at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18.

Buc Wrestlers Keep on Winning

Two more opponents bowed to the tough Campbell High varsity wrestling team last week. The Bucs took the measure of James Lick by a score of 30 to 12, and then whitewashed Mountain View by the huge score of 54 to 0.

In the Lick meet, the Bucs took 9 of the matches, two by pins. Profit pinned his man in 3:38 and Prnjak put his man down in 5:11. Tomisaka remained undefeated although he drew with his opponent.

The Bucs took all the marbles in the Mountain View match. There were 8 pins, 3 decisions and 1 forfeit. Werthman pinned his man in the shortest time, one minute and 21 seconds. Others who pinned were D. Nevis, Stroppa, Omura, Yamada, Jackson, Prnjak, and Profit.

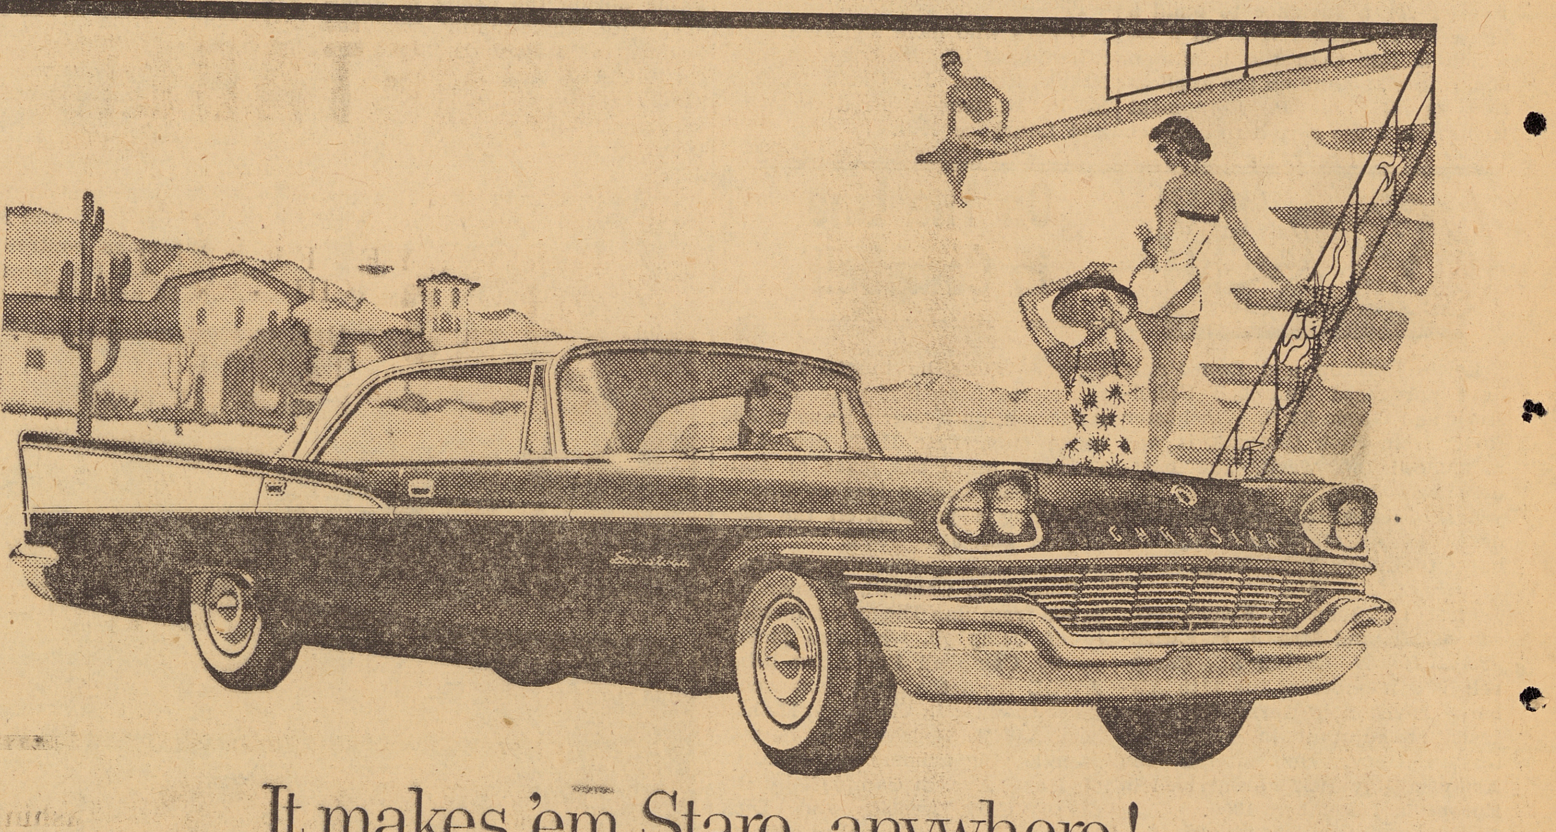
THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER
Most glamorous car in a generation



It makes 'em Stare-anywhere!

You see it any place...and you want to look at it. There's a pride and a prance to it that gives you a lift, makes you feel alive and vital. But the real tingle is driving it!

There it is . . . as long and low and purposeful as a gleaming jet, with its long rakish fenders streaming back and up like battle flags. This is the dynamic new look of 1957 motoring, and we can't help it if others aren't there yet. Give 'em time—we always have.

The important thing to know is that every flowing "go" line in this 1957 Chrysler has a purpose. That low-slung body and upswept tail were engineered for a new kind of road stability. They are the architectural results of Chrysler's Torsion-Aire ride, the all-new suspension that gives you sports car cornering with the comfort of an ocean liner.

Front coil springs have been completely eliminated. There's up to 56% more glass area to enhance its roomy feel. The wide, low grille features hooded dual headlights. And if you want to find out what "go" really is, wait till you boss its up-to-325 horsepower engine and pushbutton TorqueFlite transmission. The real tingle is waiting for you. Come in and see us . . . or just telephone. We'll gladly arrange a demonstration.

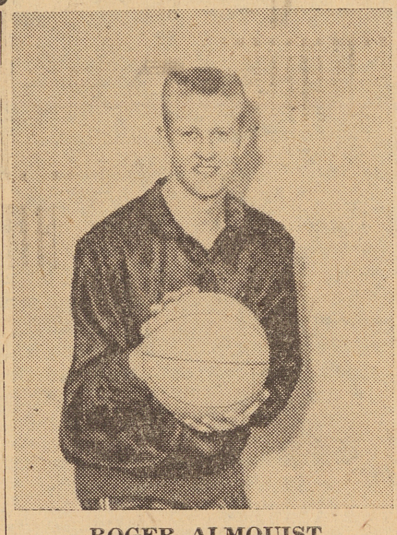
Campbell Cagers Down Los Altos In League Battle by 51-33 Score

By Richard Ferguson

Second place Campbell on Friday cracked the Los Altos Knights 51-33, behind Roger Almquist's 19 points in the first half, to push their league record to 4 wins and one loss. The Bucs showed their mastery of the hardwood by taking their first league game away from home. Fremont handed the Bucs their only league defeat so far this season.



ROGER ALMQUIST
. . . 19 in First Half

Topping the Knights 11-4 at the first quarter stop, the Bucs pressed on to a 35-17 half time score with Almquist hitting three varieties of shots, left handed hooks, jumps, and freethrows, Almquist had his total of 19 points at half time. Gene Andres showed up well at center bringing down rebounds and tallying 9 points to help the Buc cause. Jerry Shenefiel and Ron Rowe along with John Kriewall combined their talents to help hte Bucs in their bid for the SCVAL crown.

Sunnyvale will be the Bucs foe this Friday night at 7:30 in the Campbell gym.

In the preliminary contest the little Bucs met defeat at the hands of the little Knights by a score of 51-29. It was the fourth loss for the Campbell five against one win.

Tom Perry again took scoring honors for the Bucs with 13 counters to his credit. Despite Perry's scoring punch the little Bucs were out-hustled on the boards and couldn't muster the manpower to turn the tide.

Cubberly Takes Campbell JV-JB

Campbell High's JV and JB basketball teams played Cubberly at the latter's gym and came out on the short end of both games. The JV's trailed the entire game finally losing out by a score of 44 to 32. Burdick and Rumbough were high with 13 points.

The JB's fared a little better although they lost to their host, Cubberly, by 45 to 42. They trailed at the half 28 to 22 mainly due to Ahrens of Cubberly who tanked 18 points. The Bucs put the stopper on him in the second half as he only made 2 points. However, the Buc JB's couldn't catch up. High scorers for Campbell were Duncan with 14, Major 12, and Jim Farrell with 5 points.

On Friday, the JV's beat back a rally of Mountain View to emerge victor with a score of 30 to 27. Mountain View trailed 13 to 4 at half, and pressured the Bucs with a 23 point splurge.

Rumbough was high for Campbell with 8, followed by Burdick with 6.

LOW DOWN ON SPORTS

St. Marys 90—Pepperdine 81

The St. Marys Gaels took a convincing lead in the beginning of the game and took Pepperdine on a 90-81 victory. This was their fifth win out of six league games. This puts them on top—½ game ahead of U.S.F. who beat Loyola 66-45 and Santa Clara who was idle. Santa Clara takes on S.J. State this Tuesday nite which I predict Santa Clara will take.

Stanford Wins

The Stanford Indians took two straight games over the Oregon basketball team.

Johnny Oldham Signs

The Cincinnati Redlegs signed Johnny Oldham, pitcher for the coming season. Oldham is a local star who returned late last season because he was in the service. We look for good reports on Johnny this season.

Another local pitcher, Duane Pilette of Cambrian Park, claims his arm is cured and we'll be looking for him to go all out for the San Francisco Seals.

Midgets

Next Sunday some of the best drivers from the B.C.R.A. and U.S.A.C. will perform at San Jose Speedway. Bob Machin, Johnny Baldwin, Johnny Parsons, Bob Vieth are some of the drivers.

COW PALACE TENNIS

St. Lucy's Downs Two More Teams

S. Patrick's School in San Jose fell before the attack of St. Lucy's of Campbell on Saturday by a 29-18 score. St. Lucy's ability to gain the rebounds and the team's fast break were the deciding factor in the contest.

The local team kept up its winning ways and downed Sacred Heart during the week by a 17-13, although the Campbell boys did not look as sharp in this contest as in preceding ones. One of the reasons was the Sacred Heart's court is not regulation which hindered St. Lucy's fast break. In this battle Smedley, Holland, Oreglia and Salice shared high point honors with four digits each. In the tussle with St. Patrick's Smedley, Holland, Oreglia and Tunstall tied for top honors with six each.

This Sunday, February 10, St. Lucy's and St. John's tangle. Both teams have a 3-1 record in league play.

for moving vehicles were issued in 1955 (1002 to 848) than in 1956 but non-moving citations in 1956 showed a sharp increase (395 to 686) over the previous year.

Tickets for speeding headed the traffic citation side of the picture. With 469 issued for this offense. (There was a total of 1286 citations issued for 1534 violations). A total of 228 cars were ticketed for illegal parking and 189 were cited for going through stop signs. Drunk driving (57) and passing on the right (42) were two other "popular" violations listed for 1956 for moving vehicles while there were 177 citations that pertained to drivers' licenses. Vehicle defects accounted for 152 and registration for 129.

Other citations issued for moving vehicles included wrong side of the road (22); reckless driving (10); failure to dim lights (11); improper left turn (13); hit and run (8); and crossing double line (36). One citation each was listed for brake set, speed contest, obstructing traffic, refusal to sign citation, crossing fire hose, four persons in front seat, driving in center lane and violation of vehicle right of way.

Crime Increases

Much of the increase on the criminal side of the fence Chief Locke attributes to the growing population. He said one man was added to the department in July of this year but the increase in cases was far out of proportion to this addition to the staff. There are now five officers and chief in the department plus a part-time clerk. The force includes, in addition to Locke, Sergeant John Morgan, Officers Dick Mayne, Gordon Rooney, Carl Arnold, and Donald Burr. Mrs. Vicki Thompson is the part-time clerk.

As was the case in 1955, there were no homicides in Campbell in 1956 but the police handled almost every other type of case, the report reveals. Heading the list again was petty larceny. In 1956 there were 69 cases reported against 45 in 1955. There were 21 bicycle thefts compared to only six the year before. There were 10 arrests (all juveniles) made in these cases. Strangley enough there were also 10 arrests made for car thefts, all juveniles. Car thefts reported jumped from seven in 1955 to 12 in 1956.

The report shows that malicious mischief plays a big part in the local department's activities. There were 73 such cases. The cops also reported that 92 doors were found open during the year.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

In the "Now it can be told" category is the story of one of the best breaks of my career—my recent appointment to the Armed Services Committee.

For months I have secretly hoped and worked for assignment to the group which handles legislation for our national defense. Because it is a much sought-after post, chances looked rather dim a few months back. Furthermore, being a member of the minority party which has a minimum of seats on each committee, and lacking in the seniority which is so essential, I feared that my hopes were building me up to a great "let-down." For this and stategic reasons, I didn't say a word about my campaign for the appointment. Now it can be told.

Republican committee appointments are handled by the "Committee on Committees", composed of one Republican from each State, each of whom is armed with as many votes as he has Republican representatives in his delegation. The committee meets and "horse trading" (major league style) begins. The solid backing of the California delegation plus a solid week of phone calls, personal contacts and letter-writing strengthened the hand of our California committeeman and helped him to secure the prize for our State and for me. The only other Republicans appointed were ten and thirty-year veterans in Congress—considerably more than my four years.

The importance of this committee assignment was dramatically brought home to me last week at breakfast with Defense Secretary, Charles E. Wilson. Over 7 million people are either in the Armed Forces or are working in defense establishments. This constitutes 10 percent of those gainfully employed in the United States. Furthermore, 10 perecnt of our gross national product, i.e. of everything produced in the United States, is consumed by the Armed Services. Defense is not only our biggest—it is our most vital business!

The delightful sense of humor disployed by Secretary Wilson belies his cold, icy, businesslike approach to the problems of his office. Surrounded by excellent executives, the secretary seems to be the complete master of any situation he faces. This choice quote from the Secretary at last week's breakfast describes him well: "A good executive is a man who wears a worried look on his assistant's face."

Cancer Society Names Executive

June F. Baxter, former high school teacher, wartime Red Cross worker and American Cancer Society field representative, has been named executive secretary of the Santa Clara County Branch of the American Cancer Society, according to Mrs. Elise Belenky, president.

In her new post, Miss Baxter will help co-ordinate the educational and service work of the branch's 13 local units in the county.

"Our greatest need" she said, "is volunteers to work in the April Cancer Crusade."

During the past three and a half years, she served the Cancer Society as field representative in the San Fernando Valley. Her territory included 29 city units and some unincorporated areas in Los Angeles County.

Anyone wishing to volunteer their services should contact American Cancer Society headquarters at 252 N. First Street in San Jose.

KIWANIS CLUB

Kiwanis will meet Tuesday, February 12, at 12:10 p.m. in the Library Building. Program will be history of I.B.M. Corporation of San Jose; its past, present and future. Chairman of the day will be Norman Corvello.

The first United States postage stamps went on sale in New York City July 1, 1847.

PTA Awards 'Life Membership' To George Robertson

"It Could Be You", a take-off on the popular TV show, revealed the recipient of a Life Membersip Award presented by El Quito and

GEORGE ROBERTSON
. . . PTA Life Membership

Bucknall School PTA Tuesday night.

The unsuspecting member was George Robertson, who for nine years has been exceedingly active in school affairs and clerk of the Board of Trustees of Moreland School District. Robertson was led through the maze of his activities by his wife Elaine, who was master of ceremonies for the evening.

Robertson was selected for this honor by an El Quito and Bucknall PTA committee because of his outstanding work for schools; for never being too busy to help with any project when called upon; for volunteering his services beyond the call of duty; and for his fair judgment.

Elected to the Board of Trustees July 1, 1948, Robertson has served continuously since July 3 of that year as clerk of the Board. During this time he helped with the district building program which included purchase of sites for El Quito, Bucknall and Strawberry Schools and saw these plants completed. Recently the Board purchased a site on Campbell Avenue for another school which will be started this Spring, either in May or June, according to Mrs. Gussie Baker, superintendent of the Moreland School District. In 1948, she said, district enrollment was 204; today it has risen to 1642.

The committee pointed out that as a Board member, Robertson gives many, many hours of time to meetings which are held three or four times a month to keep abreast of school affairs. He is considered its most experienced member, very reliable, and can always be depended upon for good advice and to make sound decisions.

Most recent of Robertson's activities is the Civil Defense Committee which has planned a school evacuation drill scheduled to have its first practice this month.

In 1944 Robertson and his family moved from San Francisco to their present home at 18408 Paseo Olivos, Saratoga. He is employed by Gerrans Spreader Manufactur- active in school affairs and at the present time is president of the Sixth District PTA. They have four daughters, three of whom graduated from Campbell High School, the youngest is now a sophomore. Along with his school work, Robertson is also an active member of the Saratoga-Quito Kiwanis Club.

ORDINANCE NO. 122

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF CAMPBELL, COUNTY OF SANTA CLARA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, ADOPTING OFFICIAL PLAN LINES FOR CERTAIN ROADS AND STREETS WITHIN SAID CITY, PROHIBITING THE PLACING OF BUILDINGS OR STRUCTURES WITHIN SAID PLAN LINES, PROVIDING FOR UNIFORM STANDARDS OF PROCEDURE FOR VARIANCES AND ADJUSTMENTS TO BE ISSUED BY THE CITY COUNCIL WITH RESPECT TO SUCH PLAN LINES, AND REQUIRING THE RECORDING OF SAID PLAN LINES MAPS, BEING A PORTION OF ARTICLE IX, ENTITLED "PLANNING, ZONING, AND SUBDIVISION REGULATIONS OF CAMPBELL MUNICIPAL CODE"

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Campbell did on the 22nd day of November, 1954, by Resolution No. 69 of said Council adopt a Master Plan of Streets and Highways for the City of Campbell; and,

WHEREAS, to accomplish fully the purposes of said Master Plan there have heretofore been adopted certain Official Plan Lines Maps of the City of Campbell, which said maps are as follows, to wit:

(1) Official Plan Lines Map of San Tomas Boulevard, which said map was adopted as a part of Ordinance No. 87 on the 21st day of November, 1955.

(2) Official Plan Lines Map of Hamilton Avenue, which said map was adopted as a part of Ordinance No. 96 on the 7th day of May, 1956, and,

WHEREAS, the City Council of City of Campbell finds it is for the pubic interest to establish additional plan lines, and to provide a uniform procedure for the granting of variances and the making of adjustments in connection with plan lines established, or as they may be hereafter established,

NOW, THEREFORE, the City Council of City of Campbell does ordain as follows:

SECTION 20:00. Plan Lines.

There are hereby adopted certain additional Official Plan Lines Maps of the City of Campbell, copies of which are attached hereto and made a part hereof, and which are more particularly described as follows:

(a) Official Plan Lines of Campbell Avenue as designated and delineated on the maps attached hereto, marked "Exhibit 'A' ", and by this reference made a part hereof.

(b) Official Plan Lines of Winchester Road as designated and delineated on the maps attached hereto, marked "Exhibit 'B' ", and by this reference made a part hereof.

SECTION 20:01. No Buildings.

No building, structure or other improvements shall hereafter be erected or placed within any official plan line, except that this provision shall not apply to lawns, crops, planting, shrubbery and the the like; or such ordinary front yard fences and nonpermanent structures, which in the opinion of the City Planning Commission, will not defeat the purposes of this ordinance.

SECTION 20:02. Procedure of Variances.

The City Council of the City of Campbell, upon the recommendation of the City Planning Commission of said City, shall have power to grant adjustments or variances in the strict application of the provisions of Section 20:01 of this ordinance, in cases in which the strict application of such provisions would result in a serious impairment of substantial property rights, in accordance with the followiing procedure:

(1) Application for any adjustment or variance permissable under the provisions of this section shall be made to the City Planning Commission and shall include an application for a permit to erect or place the building, structure or other improvements. A filing fee of $15.00 shall accompany each application.

(2) Upon the receipt of such application the City Planning Commission shall hold one public hearing thereon, notice of which shall be given by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in said City not less than ten days prior to the date of said hearing. At said hearing the applicant shall present a statement and adequate evidence, in such form as the City Planning Commission may require, showing:

(a) That there are special circumstances or conditions attached to the property upon which the proposed building, structure or other improvement is sought to be erected or placed.

(b) That the granting of the application is necessary for the preservation and enjoyment of substantial property rights.

(3) The City Planning Commission shall make its decision upon said application and shall report such decision to the City Council within thirty (30) days after the receipt of the application by the Secretary of the City Planning Commission. In recommending the granting of any adjustment or variance under the provisions of this Section the City Planning Commission shall designate such conditions in connection therewith as will, in its opinion, result in the adjustment or variance causing the minimum possible interference with the purposes of this ordinance and with the ultimate accomplishment of the objectives of the Master Street and Highway Plan of the City of Campbell.

(4) In reporting its decision to the City Council, the Planning Commission shall report its findings with respect thereto and all facts in connection therewith and shall specifically and fully set forth any adjustment or variance which is recommended and the conditions designated in connection therewith.

(5) Upon receipt of such report the City Council shall by resolution make its decision upon the aforesaid application. If such decision shall approve the granting of an adjustment or variance the permit applied for shall be issued, subject to the conditions designated by the City Council and the City Planning Commission. EDITORIAL

Ordinarily The Press keeps its editorials on a strictly local plane. We feel that we can better fulfill our mission as a community newspaper if we hold to what's going on in our front and back yards rather than to get involved in national or even state problems.

By the same token we also try to keep our editorials on a very materialistic basis, leaving philosophy and theories, as a rule, to other mediums.

Rarely do we reprint editorials from contempories in the field.

But in this issue we are making an exception because we feel that the editor of the "Bent County (Colo.) Democrat" has expressed our sentiments, and those of most of us at the helm of community newspapers, very well.

The editorial we referred to recently won an award from the University of Colorado for excellence in editorial writing. Earl Asbury is the editor of the Colorado weekly in which the following editorial appeared which was reprinted in one of our trade magazines:

"Sometimes I marvel that newspapers by and large, turn out to be as good as they are.

"Because frankly, about 90 per cent of the pressure put on a newspaper is pressure to put out a mediocre paper. Only about 10 per cent of the pressure we get is in the direction of putting out a good paper.

"As a result, any time you find a good newspaper, you find behind it a newspaperman who has resisted a good share of the bad pressures. Don't kid youreslf that any newspaper is able to resist them all.

"Here are some examples of the things we mean. And no one should take any of them personally, because each one literally happens about once a week.

"1—A young man who's been fined for drunken driving demands that we keep his name out of the paper. Frequently he gives as his reason that his mother has a bad heart and if she saw him written up in the paper, it might kill her.

"If someone is arrested for drunken driving (or any other traffic violation) in this country, we consider it news. It isn't good news, but it's news. Furthemore, we're cooperating with the state patrol, which has requested we print traffic violations.

"2—It's 108 degrees in the shade and Las Animas that week has been the hottest city in the nation. Somebody will stop us and say 'Don't put that in the paper. That won't do our town any good. People will think this is an awful place.'

"Some people tend to get the newspaper mixed up with the chamber of commerce. Actually, we're all for the chamber of commerce and have tried to be active in it. But if Las Animas is the hottest town in the nation, that's news. If in that instance, printing of the news does not coincide with the objectives of the chamber of commerce, that's unfortunate.

" 'But,' you might say, 'I thought you were interested in community service.'

"We are, very much so. You might say community service is our number two goal. But our number one goal is printing news.

"3—Then there 's the club that gets a long news release from its national headquarters with a memo to retype it on their own letterhead and give it to the editor. Maybe the whole club will be mad if we don't use it. But these same club members might be the first to complain if we started filling our paper up with non-local news that really isn't of interest to anyone but members of one certain club.

"4—There's the man about to open a new place of business, but he doesn't want anything in about it. Not yet anyway. 'I'll give you a real story when I'm ready,' he usually adds.

" 'But Mister,' we try to explain, 'nows when it's news. By the time you're ready for your 'big story' everybody will know about it and it won't be worth a big story.'

"The most common rebuttal to that is, 'Listen, I said don't run anything now. You run now and you won't get any advertising from me!'

"5—Time after time a story will break which might show one of our friends in a not-so-favorable light. We have the choice of leaving it out or running it and then being met with a very small hello—or maybe no hello at all.

"Like we said, most of the pressure is in the direction of a mediocre paper.

"As for us, we think we'll keep resisting for awhile yet. Heck, that's half the fun of it!"

One of the penalties (?) a mayor pays is that "hishonor" of a necessity and, because of tradition, must be the front man for all civic functions. It naturally follows that the more functions, the more appearance a mayor must make.

This idea has been going on for some time. It probably dates from the stone age when inhabitants of one cave made contact with those from another. We wouldn't be surprised if in those prehistoric times, the meeting of the two "mayors" was etched on the walls of the caves by the official artist of the group. Chances are the mayors batted each other over the head with their clubs, when they met, thus providing a little more action than most of the meetings today that the modern mayors have to attend.

But it is difficult to enliven the mayor's ordinary functions today.

There isn't a great deal one can do about cutting a ribbon for a grand opening, sticking a shovel in the ground for a groundbreaking, signing a proclamation, awarding a prize or greeting a visitor.

And most of these activities must be recorded for posterity. So the newspaper photographer is generally dutifully around for such events, often wistfully thinking that even if they used a shovel to cut a ribbon and the scissors to break the ground, it would be a change.

—o—

Because of the activities of his office, we admit that Mayor John Chargin's picture has been in The Campbell Press more often than any other single individual. (He made it again today), signing the proclamation for Electrical Week in Campbell).

We have been kidded (and so has Jack) about the mayor's mug making this sheet so often. In fact one group of guys down at Vince's Market made a point of calling us each week that Chargin's picture did not appear. Their spokesman always called himself "Joe Smith" when objecting to this apparent "oversight". Our scouts report that Al Lupton, Cliff Winters and Ray Del Castello are the "joe smith" in question. "Joe" would always say that he would cancel his subscription unless the mayor's picture appeared every week.

Chargin's photo won't be in every week, we are pretty sure of that, but he'll make it pretty often, as long as grand openings, special weeks, groundbreakings and such stuff like that continue.

Come to think of it, despite our grousing, we would hate to see such events stopped.

Wouldn't you?

Bill Howarth, the San Jose State journalism intern who spent the last semester with us, finished his internship last week. We were sorry to see him finish, for he was a big help to us here at The Press during the five months he spent on the staff.

We are completely sold on this internship program and have so informed Dr. Dwight Bentel, head of the journalism department at State. However, Dr. Bentel explained that there were no interns available for the spring semester, so we will have to wait until summer or next fall.

—o—

Some of you have commented on the fact that the wood sign on The Press building is lacking the letter "P".

For the record we wish to state that the brisk wind the other day blew down the letter. It is not a typographical error.

We are getting the sign repaired and it will be spelled correctly again.

But thanks for your solicitude.

We wish the typographical errors that make their appearance in the paper from time to time, despite our most valiant efforts, were as obvious to hte eye as hte missing letter in the sign.

Sergeant John Morgan and Officer Carl Arnold of the Campbell Police Department darn near were on hand the other day to catch three teenage youths in the act of breaking street lamps in town. The youths had smashed one light when they were reported by a resident. They were taking aim at another when the two cops drove up and collared them before they had a chance to either "light out" or put the light out.

—o—

We are amazed at the thinking (if one can call it that) that goes through the heads of some of these youngsters who apparently enjoy doing malicious damage.

Incidentally, Sergeant John recently attended a conference of law enforcement officers on the subject of "juvenile violence".

John said one of the questions discussed was whether there was more violence today among teenagers than in the past. The consensus of the group was that there is more violence manifest today among the youths.

But the "why" bothered everyone.

John said there were many theories advanced but no one was able to put his finger on the real reason.

We certainly wish we knew the "why". We bet others do, too.

'Cal-Vet' Reports Policy Change in Granting Loans

"Cal-Vet" home and farm loans to state war veterans will be made on a first-come, first-served basis, on a day-to-day schedule for all priority groups, beginning this week, with first service given to applicants for smaller loans.

The State Department of Veterans Affairs, according to its director, J. Marvin Russell, has made sufficient progress in handling the backlog of applications siince last July 5 that it can now begin to make loans in the higher priorities.

The law allows Cal-Vet loans up to $15,000 to buy or $13,500 to build a home, and $40,000 to purchase a farm. Since last July, when loans in these amounts first became available through legislative action, applications have been taken for loans in all amounts up to the maximum, but only loans not exceeding $10,000 for a home or $20,000 for a farm have been put through, unless the applicant was wounded or disabled. Other veterans wanting larger loans went on a waiting list.

"Within a few months we should be able to take care of all veterans whose applications are already on file, regardless of disability and regardless of the loan amount," Russell said. "Then we can serve the veterans who have applied in the meantime.

"As we roll back the waiting list, the veterans who applied for a $15,000 loan on any given day will be served ahead of the veteran who applied for a $10,000 loan the following day, provided he has a deal ready to go."

He said the Department has doubled its staff and opened five new offices during the second half of 1956 and can now comfortably handle 1,200 and more loans a month.

Report From Sacramento

By BRUCE F. ALLEN
Assemblyman 29th District

Construction of 8.8 miles of the Route 5 freeway from Los Gatos to Bascom Avenue in San Jose is due to start soon. Approximately $6,000,000 has been budgeted for this work for the fiscal year starting July 1. I have just learned that the project is due to go to bid in March. Currently we also have work in process for widening El Camino Real, converting the Bayshore to a freeway, and taking the curves out of Route 9 between Sunnyvale and Milpitas.

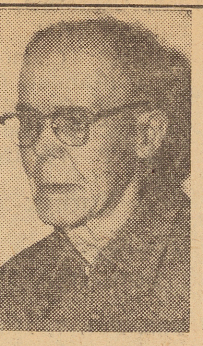
The legislature has just passed a bill adding the Junipero Serra freeway to the state highway system. This will be an inter-state highway and will be constructed to 1970 standards with federal funds (3 cents per gallon gas tax plus other excise taxes).

Adoption of the new 450 mile route as a mainline freeway was crucial at this time, since the appointment of funds under the federal highway program starting in 1959-60 will be according to the relative dollar amount of highway deficiencies in each state. These figures have to be filed with the federal Bureau of Public Roads by June 1, of this yaar.

In order to develop these figures, the route had to be adopted by the legislature in January, and will have to be located on the ground by the Highway Commission pursuant to public hearings before June 1.

This mainline route will be of equal traffic importance to the Bayshore. This requires that it enter San Jose close to the center of population, which is near Bascom and San Carlos. The route has not been located yet. It will probably come from San Bruno down Skyline Boulevard, across Stanford in the rear of the campus, and into Route 5 near San Jose by way of Cupertino. A branch will have to be established to go through the south part of this valley to the Monterey Highway at Ford road. Further legislation is needed for this part.

Over the Years



By John D. Blaine

Our editor and publisher, George Vierhus, mentioned in January 24 issue that his research in the history of his paper had not disclosed when the Campbell Weekly Visitor turned into the Campbell Interurban Press.

As an old settler I remember when but I don't recall the date —if one can remember when without knowing the date. It was when the paper was edited by my brother-in-law, the late E. C. Hurlbert, who sold, I believe, to Lewis C. Dick and A. B. Chamberlin. (I knew Mr. Dick but did not know Mr. Chamberlin, and I recall nothing about him.)

The coming of the Interurban Electric Railway connecting Campbell, Los Gatos, and Saratoga with San Jose was a very dramatic incident in the life of Campbell. Hence the reason why Mr. Hurlbert, an enthusiastic person, thought a change of name for the paper in keeping with progress.

—o—

But not everybody welcomed the Interurban. Some of our business men feared it would take more trade to San Jose. The late George Page, an old settler, had another reason. He owned on the north side of Campbell Avenue property through which the Interurban wanted a right of way. Mr. Page refused. Those who knew Mr. Page knew he was a very determined man. In this instance he was immovable.

But on a Sunday the railway people in a surprise move brought out a gang of workmen and laid the rails regardless. Then in Interurban in turn remained immovable. And that was that.

A strange fate linked George Page to the Interurban. He lived to see the Interurban lose out and abandon its line, but this abandonment resulted in his death. He bought the now useless railway trestle over Los Gatos Creek just south of Page Dam. In the process of wrecking this trestle for its lumber Mr. Page slipped and fell to rocks in the creek bottom and received injuries that proved fatal.

—o—

It has been well said there is nothing constant but change. While the Interurban was still at the height of its success two brothers of Los Gatos started a competing bus line to San Jose and took in Campbell on the way. Their first buses were a bit comical, Model T Fords with improvised bodies that when loaded trailed almost to the ground. This apparently insignificant competition was the beginning of the end of the Interurban.

It is now difficult to recall precisely how the electric car was replaced by bus service, but we know that it happened and some of us saw it. Some of the Interurban rails are still imbedded in the highway between Campbell and San Jose, notably in Meridian Road between Hamilton Avenue and Willow Street.

—o—

But transportation to San Jose no longer means all that it did when many Campbell folk went to San Jose to shop for food stuffs. Today we have our own supermarkets and Campbell food prices are as good as any.

I am considerably amused at the habit of my fellow citizens of taking a car to buy food, no matter how little. Everywhere around food stores the problem is one of parking, parking, parking. Supermarkets advertise their parking capacity, up to—or am I dreamin?—10,000 cars!

I simply jump on my bike and patronize any market I please within the Campbell area. I push the pedals for daily exercise anyway, and shopping for food I take in daily stride, using bike saddle bags. I ride a bike exactly as I did 50 years ago.

—o—

Such common sense is to many people astonishing. Common sense, it appears, is one of the most uncommon things to be found. In John Bartlett's Familiar Quotations there is only one reference to common sense. It's in Tennyson's Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington, and runs:

"Rich in saving common sense,
"And as the greatest only are,
"In his simplicity sublime."

Excuse please. Even I blush at this implied flatery of myself.

Traffic Survey

Assemblyman Bruce Allen has requested the State Highway Engineer, George T. McCoy, to survey the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Camden Ave. intersection as to the need for traffic signals. Allen reports that he had received a number of complaints from residents concerning the traffic conditions that exist at that intersection.

DOESN'T DRIVE

Editor, The Campbell Press

Sir:

I wish to correct some people in this community about my husband driving a car. My husband hasn't driven a car in many years to my knowledge. I have been driving ever since we were married 12 years ago. When I was in the hospital my father drove.

Any rumor going around about my husband driving is false and I wish to have it stopped.

Board Notes Business Rise In Third Quarter of 1956

Business activity in California continued to grow in the third quarter of 1956, despite a slight decline in total retail sales, according to Geroge R. Reilly, first district member of the State Board of Equalization. Sustained by strong increases in the dollar-volume sales of manufacturing, wholesaling, contracting, and miscellaneous outlets and of personal service establishments, business activities subject to retail sales and use taxes reached a third-quarter high of $4,757,713,000. These transactions were greater by $126,699,000, or 2.74 per cent, than the comparable activities for the third quarter of 1955.

The state revenues produced by a 3 per cent sales and use tax upon these transactions was $142,731,390, Board statisticians declared. Self-assessed taxes for the first three quarters of 1956 (exclusive of penalties and other Board assessments) amounted to $416,833,200.

NAT'L. GUARD CHIEF SPEAKS AT ROTARY

Chairman of the day was Cliff Cassiday.

Student Essays List Reasons For Owning a Home

Editor's Note: Three Campbell High School students recently won honorable mention and $25 government bonds in an essay contest sponsored by the San Jose Real Estate Board. The subject was "Why I Want To Own My Own Home." Winners were Floyd G. Larson, 17, of 460 Sunnyoaks Ave.; Byron Hansen, 16, of 670 Emory Ave.; and Sue Koester, who took first prize in the "Safer Driving Through Better Vision" contest, sponsored locally by the Campbell Rotary Club. Miss Koester's essay also won the County contest, sponsored by the Santa Clara County Optometric Society. Winning this made her eligible to compete in the State contest, for which there is a prize of $100. The Campbell Press printed her prize-winning essay in the December 20 issue. Following are the essays on home ownership by Larson and Hansen, both seniors at Campbell High.

Why I Want To Own My Own Home

There are three main reasons why I want to own my own home. These are not just new ideas, dreamed up in a few moments, but are proven ideas, tried and tested for many years.

First, owning real property gives a sense of security and of knowing that your future is financially safe. Homes are good investments! In fact, over the years real property has proven itself to be the soundest method of protecting money while helping it to grow. During the depression years many men lost fortunes on other investments, but those with their futures depending upon real estate seldom lost all.

Second, home ownership gives a sense of "belonging", of being a part of your environment. When you own your own home, you have something that you can really call yours.

Finally, and the most important reason, is the civic pride that owners of real property can have. In owning property, you are a part of your community, your state, and your country. In fact, ownership of property is one of the basic ideas of our American way of life. In countries where democracy is not practiced most people do not have the opportunity of owning a home. But here in America, where everyone has an equal opportunity, I for one, want to take advantage of it and own my own home.

For the reasons I have mentioned above, and for many more, too numerous to mention, I want to own a home. I believe that every American should take advantage of this, a great part of our American heritage.

Why I Want To Own My Own Home

A home is a beacon of peace and prosperity. A home fills a man with pride and satisfaction.

A home gives a man independence for himself and his family. He will no longer wonder where he will live next, or what type of neighbors and surrounding he will find. He is free from exorbitant rental fees. Landlords and tenants no longer rule him with an iron hand. At home man is his own king.

Pride in himself and respect of his fellow men are also given by a home to its owner. He can pick his surroundings, whether modest or expensive and obtain what he wants. In a community he is considered as part of the community; he is respected by his fellow man. People think of his neat clean home and form favorable impressions of him. He will be considered more dependable. Also, ownership provides the owner with a goal toward which he may work. Who doesn't like an attractive house and yard. A man can show his gardening talent by turning a plot of ground into a park surrounding his castle. While accomplishing this he is also filling himself with a grand feeling of peace and satisfaction.

Lastly, a home provides a healthy environment for his children. They deserve the right to a fair start. In a home built on substantial ideals, they learn honesty, respect of others, and the rewards of work. They have a clean place to play and grow.

Indeed the man who owns a home is enjoying one of the most rewarding joys of life.

Remember the good old days?

It wasn't funny at the time, but Campbell residents managed to see the humorous side of the flood that covered the streets of Campbell in 1911. In browsing through some old copies of The Campbell Press, known at that time as "Campbell Interurban Press" we noted a column which began with "Campbell has lost its reputation as a "dry" town, due to the heavy rains. In the same column, appeared the following item: "LOST—A brown felt hat, by a small man on stilts as he was wading homeward down Central avenue. Hat last seen as it passed the Congregational church traveling at the rate of ten miles an hour—more or less. If the finder will return the hat to this office in its original condition he well be rewarded by one year's subscription to the paper and will receive a favorable mention in the next issue."

A certain amount of bitterness was expressed locally because many thousands of dollars were expended on the roads in this vicinity the previous fall, just before election, and nothing was done to repair banks of the Los Gatos creek, which would have cost a few hundred dollars and prevented the flood.

In 1911, Campbell Improvement Club was boosting Campbell and its climate to draw retired people of means from the Eastern States to settle here and picture postcards were printed showing advantages of our climatic conditions in comparisons with the rigorous Eastern climate.

—o—

We've noticed that in writing of that period after the turn of the century, before rumblings of World War I were heard, authors often referred to those times as halcyon days. When we looked it up in the dictionary we found that halcyon means peaceful, serene and happy. Guess they must have been comparatively serene times as big issues of the day were suffrage for women and temperance.

In reading the ads of those bygone days, we get the impression that all wasn't so serene on the health front and the advertisements ran some grisly testimonials of people beset with dire ailments who were miraculously cured by patented cure-alls that were absolutely guaranteed to cure everything from a hang nail to a lazy liver and it was further guaranteed to be non-habit forming. We have a hunch that patients got "high" on some of the remedies of that day and even though they weren't cured, they were happy for a while—as long as the bottle lasted anyway.

Somehow, we don't feel we can lampoon ads of that era too much as our present day television and radio commercials get pretty corny, too. We now have "tired blood" and "drowsy liver biles" and a big array of reducing remedies, not to mention the latest fad of "happiness pills."

—o—

In writing of the attractions of Campbell around 1911, Campbell Improvement Club, no doubt the forerunner of the Chamber of Commerce, wrote of the many advantages of the "Orchard City" to attract desirable people to settle in Campbell and there seemed to be a general movement all over the state to bring folks out to California from the east. Besides listing Campbell's high standing in the fruit industry it was interesting to read some of the bits of information about our fair city forty-six years ago. Population at that time was 700 and boasted that there were no saloons. Campbell had a complete water system of its own plus electric lights and power and a telephone exchange.

And get this. Bare land brought from $100 to $400 per acre and when set to trees, sold from $300 to $1000 per acre. The community revolved around its orchards and fruit packing and drying industry and people were attracted to the community that was rural in atmosphere, and yet not isolated location who desired to live in a from cultural and business centers.

At the rate our orchards are being mowed down to make room for subdivisions we wonder how long Campbell can justifiably call itself the Orchard City. We'll hate to see the day when Campbell "pro-gresses" to the point when there are no more orchards and it loses its rural flavor.

—o—

Note to editor: Dear boss, I was working all the time, see, even though I seemed to be only enjoying myself looking through all those old papers.—A.R.

No Driving With Parking Lights, Law Specifies

When driving and the use of lights are required or indicated turn on headlights, not parking lights, if you want to stay within the law warns the California Highway Patrol.

"The use of parking lights as driving lights is strictly prohibited by law," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "The only exception for moving vehicles is when a parking light is used as an approved turn signal:

The use of parking lights when driving tend to deceive other drivers and create a definite hazard in traffic," Caldwell stated. "Drivers who fail to heed the law concerning parking lights are subject to arrest and they will be stopped and cited.

The safest method is to turn on the headlights, not the parking lights, whenever you use your car lights in fog, rain, at dusk or anytime on a street or highway."

Heart Fund Drive Starts in County With $49,877 Goal

A county-wide mail campaign and the appearance of plastic heart-shaped coin-boxes in local business places this week signaled the start of the 1957 Heart Fund drive.

This drive will continue through February 28 toward a record goal of $49,877.

The plastic coin boxes mounted on colorful display cards, bearing the slogan, "Help Fight Heart Disease", were distributed by volunteers to banks, neighborhood shops and retail stores, service stations, restaurants and offices.

Hundreds of additional volunteers will participate in Heart Sunday, February 24, the peak of the drive. On that afternoon, each volunteer, carrying Heart Sunday identification will ring the doorbells of 15 to 25 neighbors to collect contributions.

Stephen D'Arrigo, fund drive chairman, pointed out that the greater portion of the funds collected remain in this county to support research, education and community services conducted throughout the year by the Santa Clara County Heart Association.

The California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park is open daily throughout the year.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Plant Now—Roses, Fruit Trees, Shade Trees and spring flowering trees and shrubs.
2. For best results, plant only first grade nursery stock. Second and Third Grades require just as much water, fertilizer and care, yielding generally poorer results.
3. Prune roses and fruit trees now.
4. Spray peaches and nectarines for peach leaf curl.
5. Tuberous Begonias can be sprouted inside now. The sprouted plants can be set out into the garden after danger of frost is over.

Tree Roses

For a formal touch in your Rose garden, for accent points, or for contrasting line patterns, the Tree Rose makes a handsome planting—providing arresting beauty at eye level.

By definition, Tree Roses are not a special type of Rose but are rather the result of a propagation method; they are produced by budding bush varieties on specially selected tall-caned understocks. The most popular kinds of Tree Roses are usually Hybrid Tea varieties but Pillar varieties will also make extremely attractive Tree Rose plantings.

The Pillar can be trained to grow with a big crown and strong, down-sweeping canes that hang almost to the ground. This type of Tree Rose gives a feeling of fullness that is lacking in the usual Tree Rose with its sharp break from the ground to the head of the plant.

There are several styles of planting of the Tree Rose, advises the California Association of Nurserymen. Most often, several plants of Tree Roses are set in a straight line along a path, entrance-way or drive. Single Tree Roses can be scattered throughout a flower garden to serve as accent points during bloom season. A very handsome style of planting is in combination with Bush Roses in a formal garden; plant the same variety of Tree and Bush Roses and set the Tree Roses in a center line with the Hybrid Tea Bushes on either side. In this style of planting, the low-growing Roses relieve the sharp break from the ground to the head of the Tree Rose while the blossoms of all the Roses blend perfectly in color.

Tree Roses are available in three standard sizes: full standards, budded at 36 inches; patio standards, budded at 24 inches; and quarter standards, budded at 12 inches. There are also the Pillar or Climbing Roses, called Cascades, with six foot standards budded to a climbing variety.

All three standard sizes includes many established favorite varieties in a multitude of colors, now available at your local nursery.

Caring for a Tree Rose involves the problem of getting enough food and water up the tall standard or stalk to the head of the plant. The gardener should be very diligent in feeding a complete fertilizer and applying a mulch of organic matter each spring. Supplementary feedings should be given three times during the summer. Water faithfully and at pruning time, nurserymen recommend light pruning for heavy pruning tends to weaken the plant. Long stemmed tree Roses sunburn quite easily, and a supporting stake should be put on the south side.

Flowering Quince and Daphne

To brighten your winter garden, and also to herald the first moment of spring, plant the Daphne and the Quince, recommends the California Association of Nurserymen. These flowering shrubs are two of the earliest to bloom and are guaranteed to color a drab winter scene. Daphnes are among the most fragrant of all blooms, and are highly popular for that reason.

The Daphne grows in deciduous and evergreen varieties. Among the most popular varieties of the Winter Daphne (Daphne odora) are odora alba or White Winter Daphne and odora marginata, popularly called the Yellow-edge Winter Daphne. Both have deep rose pink flowers and dark green leaves, which on the Yellow-edge are edged in cream white. Rose Queen, also an odora variety, has flowers of very deep rose pink, growing in heavy clusters.

Another Daphne variety—not as well known as its cousins—is the Neapolitan (collina neapolitana) which grows dwarf size in rounded form with profuse clusters of fragrant rose-pink flowers. All these varieties make handsome foundation plantings. They require excellent drainage, will tolerate but do not need acid soil and should be protected from the afternoon sun.

The Flowering Quince is a wonderful example of what hybridizing can do to make a plant really exciting. Flowering Quinces are available in almost every possible shade of red and pink, in single and double blooms. Newest Quince varieties are Clarke's Giant Red and Cameo, apricot pink in color.

In the unusual group of Flowering Quinces (Chaenomeles) there's Afterglow, large double flowers of snow white turning to soft rose; Red Chief, also double, bearing two or three crops of deep red ruffled flowers; and Red Ruffles, very ruffled, large petals of dazzling brilliant red.

There are other Flowering Quinces in pink, carmine, coral, crimson, peach, lavender and white. The Quince is deciduous and hardy throughout the state. The shrubs grows in a picturesque manner, and when the leaves have dropped it has an oriental look. Budded stems of Quinces can be brought indoors, set in water near a warm window and the blooming process can be enjoyed at close hand. Quinces will grow in almost any soil and they prefer a sunny home.

Evergreens For Winter

Too many gardeners have the idea that they must "close up shop" during the winter and retire from gardening during the chilly months. But that need not be so, says the California Association of Nurserymen, for there are several handsome shrubs to be planted, tended and enjoyed during the winter months.

For instance, the Strawberry Madrone (Arbutus unedo) grows to a large size with dark green leaves and attractive red strawberry-like fruits in the winter.

The Golden Azara (Azara gilliesi) is a beautiful shrub with holly-like foliage—quite appropriate for the wintertime. Golden flowers hang in clusters from its branches.

Citrus trees are attractive the year around and the Meyer dwarf Lemon is as useful for ornamentation as it is for bearing fruit. The lemons on the Eureka variety are borne throughout the year, giving the plant color continuously. There are several other dwarf citrus fruit varieties that make handsome plantings and provide tasty fruits, among them the Rangpur Lime and several orange varieties.

The deliciously fragrant orange-colored flowers of the Orange Osmanthus (Osmanthus aurantiacus) would surely be welcome color in any garden. This plant grows as a large shrub or small tree with masses of flowers in the fall and winter.

Another handsome evergreen shrub that should be included in winter gardens is the Viburnum tinus lucidum which is a tall-growing shrubs with dark green foliage and many clusters of pinkish-white flowers in hte winter. It makes an attractive foundation shrub in the shade or sun.
